Web Programming Chairs' Welcome

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to the WWW 2018 Web Programming alternate track. We received 14 proposals from all around the world covering a broad range of topics. We evaluated them regarding relevance, quality, and novelty, selecting 1 full-day talks.

The morning session consists of an invited talk and three talks.

- Invited talk: Static Analysis Challenges in Web Programming (X. Rival)
- Tierless Modules (G. Radanne, J. Vouillon)
- JSExplain: a Double Debugger for JavaScript (A. Charguéraud, A. Schmitt, T. Wood)
- FAUST Domain Specific Audio DSP language compiled to WebAssembly (S. Letz, Y. Orlarey, D. Fober)

The afternoon session includes four talks:

- Language-integrated queries: a BOLDR approach (V. Benzaken, G. Castagna, L. Daynes, J. Lopez, K. Nguyen, R. Vernoux)
- PixieDust: Declarative Incremental User Interface Rendering through Static Dependency Tracking (N. ten Veen, D. Harkes, E. Visser)
- A Better Facet of Dynamic Information Flow Control (M. Ngo, N. Bielova, C. Flanagan, T. Rezk, A. Russo, T. Schmitz)
- A Formal Semantics of the Core DOM in Isabelle/HOL (A. D. Brucker, M. Herzberg)

The call for papers attracted submissions from America, Europe, and Asia. Review and acceptance statistics are as follows:

Submission Type	Reviewed	Accepted
Full Technical Papers	14	7	50%

We believe that the program provides a good balance between several topics such as programming language design, programming language semantics and analysis, applications, and implementation techniques, etc. Hence we hope that you will find the tutorial program interesting, providing you with a valuable opportunity to learn and share ideas with other researchers and practitioners from institutions around the world.
