Call for Nominations
Editor-In-Chief, ACM Transactions on Computing for Healthcare (HEALTH)

ACM Transactions on Computing for Healthcare (HEALTH) is a multidisciplinary journal for the publication of high-quality papers that have scientific and technological results pertaining to how computing improves healthcare. All submissions must show evidence of their contributions to the computing field as informed by healthcare. Launched in 2018, HEALTH has established itself as a leading multidisciplinary journal intersecting computing and healthcare.

Appointed by the ACM Publications Board, Editors-in-Chief (EiCs) of ACM journals are delegated full responsibility for the journal’s editorial management consistent with the journal’s charter and general ACM policies. The ACM Volunteer Editors Position Description contains a complete list of responsibilities. The Board relies on EiCs to ensure that the journal’s content is of high quality and that the editorial review process is both timely and fair. They have the final say on the acceptance of papers, the Editorial Board size, and Associate Editors' appointment.

As the term of the current Editor-in-Chiefs (EiCs) of the ACM Transactions on Computing for Healthcare (HEALTH) is coming to an end, the ACM Publications Board has set up a nominating committee to assist the Board in selecting the next EiC.

Nominations, including self-nominations, are invited for a three-year term as HEALTH EiC, beginning on October 1, 2024. The EiC term may be renewed at most once. Nomination should include a CV and a statement of the candidate's vision for the future development of HEALTH. HEALTH currently has two co-EiCs, which has been effective in distributing workload and dealing with author and institution conflicts. We will consider applications for single EiCs or pairs of co-EiCs.

The deadline for submitting nominations is August 31, 2024, although nominations will continue to be accepted until the position is filled. Please send all nominations to the nominating committee chair, Chenyang Lu (lu@wustl.edu).
